

The Slab End Workstation

Workstations / Desking

The Slab End Workstation

The traditional Slab End Workstation is a simple and practical option for any office workspace. The enclosed ends of the workstation allow privacy for the user, while the clean lines create a neat and tidy appearance.

THE SLAB END features

- ▶ An optional rise and fall keyboard mechanism if required
- ▶ Optional accessory rails that can be fixed to the desk for functionality, allowing the user quick access to often referenced materials, and reducing desk top clutter
- ▶ The slab ends, and workstation too, can be manufactured in any melteca or veneer. A large colour range is available for both finishes
- ▶ Can be manufactured in various shapes to suit user requirements including:
 - Linear Desk
 - 90° Corner
 - 120° Corner

